- 3.2. client. Where you are acting on behalf of another person, you undertake to comply with all applicable money laundering legislation by obtaining and recording evidence of the identity and source of funds of that person or any other persons for whom you act.
- 3.3. If, however, you wish to ask us in such a case not to treat you as a client, then you must furnish us with full details of the person on whose behalf you are acting. We shall then decide at our absolute discretion, whether we wish to enter into a separate client relationship with such person. Should we so decide, we shall notify you in writing of the extent (if at all) to which we are prepared to accept any obligations towards that person or any modification of our settlement terms in relation to dealings with or for such person.
- 3.4. Orders may be passed to overseas or associate companies of CC for execution and other intermediate brokers (selected at CC discretion) may be used. Orders are subject to the terms and conditions of any intermediate broker and to the applicable regulations.
- 3.5. Unless you have entered into a Full Discretion Mandate, CC shall not be liable for any advice, opinion or recommendation which it gives and all your orders and instructions will be in reliance upon your own judgment. Nothing herein should be construed as providing any legal, tax or accounting advice or providing a guarantee of future returns or that any future returns indicated shall be achieved.
- 3.6. In the event that CC provides advice to you, it shall not be required to ensure that such advice takes into account any research or other recommendations as may be published by CC from time to time, or any information known to other areas within CC but not known to the CC office dealing directly with you. CC shall not be obliged to provide you with copies of any such publication, either at the same time as it is provided to associate companies or third parties or at all. CC may, subject to the applicable regulations, effect own account transactions at any time in Investments which are or have been the subject of such advice and/or publications, or any related Investments. No research shall constitute an offer by CC to buy or sell any Investment. You should read and consider carefully any disclosures or disclaimers which appear in published research.

- 3.7. You acknowledge that many transactions will be effected subject to, and in accordance with, applicable regulations. In particular, you acknowledge that applicable regulations usually contain wide powers in an emergency or otherwise undesirable situation, and you agree that if any exchange or clearing house takes any action which affects a transaction, then CC may take any action which it, in its discretion, considers desirable. CC shall not be liable for any loss suffered by you as a result of the acts or omissions of any exchange or clearing house or any action reasonably taken by CC as a result of such acts or omissions.
- 3.8. CC shall not be required to do anything or refrain from doing anything which would, in its opinion infringe applicable regulations and CC may at any time and without notice, do whatever it considers necessary to comply with those applicable regulations and whatever CC does or does not do in order to comply with them shall be binding on you.

4. Investment objectives and risk disclosures

- 4.1. Unless you have entered into a Full Discretion Mandate, it is your sole responsibility before entering into any transaction, to carefully consider whether the transaction is appropriate for you in light of your experience, objectives, financial and operational resources and other relevant circumstances. You should also ensure that you fully understand the nature of the transaction and contractual relationship into which you are entering and the nature and extent of your exposure to risk of loss, which may significantly exceed the amount of any initial payment by or to you. You are advised to consult your own advisors regarding any legal, regulatory, credit, tax or accounting aspects that may be applicable to any transaction. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, CC acts solely in the capacity of an arm's length counterparty and not as an advisor or fiduciary.

- 4.2. Derivative transactions generally involve risks that can include the risk of adverse or unanticipated market developments, counterparty default, illiquidity and similar risks. You should also consider the legal, tax and accounting implications of entering into any derivative transaction. You should refrain from entering into any derivative transaction unless you have fully understood all such risks and have independently determined that the transaction is appropriate for you.
- 4.3. CC may effect or arrange transactions in circumstances where the relevant transaction is not governed by the rules of an investment exchange or on an exchange that has not been recognised or designated under applicable regulations.

- 4.4. CC may, unless specifically instructed in writing to the contrary by you, purchase for you Investments that may have been the subject of price stabilisation.

5. Instructions and notices

- 5.1. Any instructions, notices or other communications given by you or us ("Instructions") shall be given or notified in writing and shall be served by hand, prepaid registered post, telex, facsimile, telephone or electronic mail to the address set out in the "Particulars Schedule" or as notified by one party to the other from time to time. Instructions given by CC by post will be deemed to be received by you on the tenth day (not including Sundays or public holidays) after the date of posting. Instructions given by you by post, will be deemed to be received by CC only when CC acknowledges receipt thereof. Instructions given by CC by telex or facsimile will be deemed to be received by you at the time when your telex or fax machine acknowledges receipt thereof. Instructions sent by telephone, telex or facsimile, when given by you, will be deemed to be received by CC only when CC acknowledges receipt thereof. Instructions given by electronic mail will be deemed to be received at the time when the recipient acknowledges receipt by return electronic mail.
- 5.2. You shall promptly give any Instructions to CC which CC may require of you in respect of any transaction or proposed transaction. It is your duty to ensure that any Instructions given to CC (including but not limited to Instructions by telephone, telex, facsimile or electronic medium) are clear and intelligible. If you do not provide such Instructions promptly, clearly or in an intelligible form, CC may, in its absolute discretion, take such steps at your cost as CC considers necessary or desirable for its own or your protection.
- 5.3. With regard to instructions given or received by electronic mail (which expression shall include text, audio, and audio-visual material sent by electronic means to and from computers or similar equipment), you request and authorise CC to rely upon and act in accordance with any Instruction which may from time to time be, or purport to be given by you in your name(s). In authorising CC to rely upon and act in accordance with any Instruction given by electronic mail, you acknowledge that electronic mail is, due to unpredictable traffic congestion and other reasons, an inherently unreliable medium of communication and that such unreliability is beyond the control of CC. You acknowledge that as a result of such unreliability, there may be delays in the transmission and receipt of Instructions or other information and that this may result in delays in the execution of Instructions sent by electronic mail.

You further acknowledge and agree that there are risks of misunderstanding or errors in any communication by electronic mail and that such risks shall be borne by you unless caused by the deliberate and proven default of the directors, officers or employees of CC. You acknowledge and agree that generally it will not be possible to cancel or revise an electronic instruction after it has been given.

- 5.4. Without prejudice to the above, you agree that CC may deem any such Instruction purported to be given by you as authentic, valid and properly executed on your behalf and that it will be binding on you notwithstanding that such Instruction may have been made without or in excess of authority from you and/or any error, misunderstanding, fault, forgery or lack of clarity may have been made or contained in the terms of such Instruction. You further agree that CC shall be under no duty to verify the authenticity of such Instruction or to enquire whether such Instruction has been made properly or with due authority. By your signature hereto you agree that CC shall not be liable for relying on any such Instruction and you indemnify CC, on demand, in full, against all claims, liabilities, damages, losses, costs and expenses of any kind arising from CC acting or omitting or refusing to act on such Instruction.
- 5.5. You agree that CC is authorised to take all steps necessary in connection with or in reliance upon any such Instruction but reserves the right to refuse to do so if, in its opinion, there are grounds for such refusal to act. The right to refuse to act includes, but is not limited to, the right to refuse to receive or dispose of any money, securities or documents. You further agree that if, after Instructions are received, CC reasonably believes that it is not reasonably practicable to act upon such Instructions within a reasonable time, CC may defer acting upon those Instructions until, in CC' reasonable opinion, it is practicable to do so. CC shall not be liable for any losses resulting from such deferral or refusal.
- 5.6. CC may (but shall not in any circumstances be obliged to) require confirmation (in such form as CC may request) of any Instruction:
- (a) which is given orally;
 - (b) if it appears to CC that such confirmation is necessary or desirable; or
 - (c) if such Instruction is to close an account or remit money due to you.

6. Best execution

CC will provide best execution in respect of transactions which it undertakes for you in that it will, subject to paragraph 7 below, deal at a price that is no less favorable than the price that is the best available in the market at the time, for transactions of the kind and size concerned.

7. Telephone calls

- 7.1. In order to assist in monitoring compliance with applicable regulations and to avoid misunderstandings, telephone conversations between you and employees of CC may be recorded with or without use of an automatic tone warning device. Our recordings shall be and remain the sole property of CC and will be accepted by you as conclusive evidence of the orders, instructions or conversations so recorded. You agree that we may deliver copies or transcripts of such recordings to any court or regulatory authorities.
- 7.2. CC may use such recordings and transcripts for any purpose which it deems desirable. CC is not required to maintain copies of such records and transcripts.

8. Accounting and statements

- 8.2. The broker's note may show a single price combining the unit price and our charges in respect of a transaction. You must notify us of any objections to broker's notes within 48 hours of deemed date of receipt (as determined in accordance with paragraph 5 above). We will not indicate the time at which a transaction was effected in the broker's note but will endeavor to supply such detail on request.
- 8.3. CC may receive remuneration from or share charges with a third party and the details of the amounts involved will be available on request.
- 8.4. You should verify the contents of each document received from CC. Such documents shall, in the absence of manifest error, be conclusive unless you notify CC in writing to the contrary within 48 hours of deemed date of receipt (as determined in accordance with paragraph 5 above).

In the event that you request ad hoc valuations, they will be provided on the basis stated, which should not be taken to imply that the valuation represents a market value or that any market professional would quote the same or similar values or that any transaction or position can be realised for that value. Provision of a valuation does not constitute either a bid or an offer by CC. If CC subsequently agrees to quote a firm price, that firm price may differ from the most recent valuation provided to you which may be unfavourable to you. Valuations will be provided solely for your information and are not intended for the benefit of any other party. CC specifically disclaims liability for any use you may make of any valuation. You should discuss with your external advisors the extent to which any valuation provided by CC may be used to value your or any other person's Investments. Providing valuations to you on one or more occasions does not create an obligation for CC to continue to do so in the future.
